THE OAKLAND FILM OFFICE INTRODUCES the Oakland Film Center

Conveniently located at the foot of the Bay Bridge, the Oakland Film Center houses 23 film production-related businesses in its nearly 60,000-square-foot, three-warehouse complex.

Working together in the Film Center creates a unique synergy within an already tight-knit Bay Area film production community—between art directors, prop makers, photographers and companies that provide film production gear.

SPOTLIGHT: JOHN BEHRENS DP, director, and camera operator John Behrens started his career path when he made his first film—at the age of 9. In addition to extensive commercial work, he has shot three feature films: The Other Half, Want, and Brain Pirates. “At the Film Center,” says John, “I have the advantage of working in a family atmosphere within a rich cultural environment. I’m surrounded by talented artists.”
